High Performance Communication & Coaching

DEVELOPING PEOPLE AND TEAMS

Jamie is an executive coach and speaker with a twenty-five-year career in healthcare, medical education and behavioural change. He has delivered hundreds of workshops, seminars, speeches and keynotes.

A clinical pharmacist by background, Jamie is recognised as a forward thinking, innovative leader, with a flair for communication and the ability to inspire and motivate individuals and audiences.

Speaking, Workshops and Conferences

Jamie combines his clinical, lean and behavioural change expertise to deliver workshops that are built on memorable ideas that engage, inspire and motivate individuals, teams and organisations.

They include:

High performing teams | Coaching for performance | Being human at work | Communicating for success | Behavioural economics | The All Blacks, lessons in leadership excellence | Coaching chemist – A prescription for confidence and personal improvement | Human factors and team performance | Employee engagement, teams and behavioural change

Executive Coaching

Jamie is an energetic coach with a passion for helping people make smarter choices as they develop self-awareness and individual responsibility.

Through hundreds of hours of facilitative, supportive and challenging coaching, Jamie has helped his clients build awareness of their behavioural influence, enabling them to become self-directed decision makers and problem solvers.

Jamie's growing coaching practice, offering one-to-one and team coaching, has clients in the public and private sectors. In healthcare, clients include executive directors, medical consultants, medical advisors, senior healthcare professionals and leaders. In the private sector, clients include lawyers, retail leaders, managing directors, chief operating officers and business executives.

Being Human at Work

LOOKING AFTER OURSELVES, EACH OTHER AND OUR TEAMS IS A NECESSITY NOT A LUXURY

Is your workplace full of intellectually talented performers, the brightest and the best. Do they get the results that such a talented team should be getting?

What Will You Learn?

- Understanding motivation and decision making
- Current trends in employee engagement
- Understanding the impact of low engagement
- Creating a culture of trust and psychological safety
- The power of coaching and conversations
- The importance of employee wellbeing

Workshop Overview

This one-day workshop explores how our emotions impact our work and performance. Leaders who understand the human side of change can improve employee engagement and increase discretionary effort whilst at the same time improve employee purpose and wellbeing.

Who Is the Workshop For?

For leaders, teams and the team behind the team.

Why Invest In?

It's not the smartest team that wins, it's the safest. Without trust, problem solving slows, innovation is stifled and personal growth stagnates. Learn how to create psychological safety for your teams and your workplace.

“Thanks for sharing your expertise and experience. We are enormously pleased with the session. All thought it was fun, enlightening and timely. Really hit the right level”

What My Clients Say

COACHING CLIENTS HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL WITH NEW JOBS, NEW CAREERS AND NEW PERSPECTIVES.

“Success. Got the job. Thanks again for all your help - massively appreciated”

“The sessions were perfect for me as an individual. They were relaxed and away from the office”

“I found the sessions hugely beneficial. It felt as if the coaching had come at the perfect time in my career”

“Since working with Jamie I have achieved a great deal. I have been successful at two interviews. One for a secondment and the other for the substantive role”

“For me one of the key insights is about having the confidence to see the bigger picture and be open and honest about my future career”

“This has changed me. I have developed a greater insight”

“During the first few sessions I found it quite challenging to open up and discuss personal feelings. I really felt out of my comfort zone - this was a positive thing”
